Women's History Month moment

Marian Cleaves Diamond (November 11, 1926 – July 25, 2017) was an American scientist and educator who is considered one of the founders of modern neuroscience. She and her team were the first to publish evidence that the brain can change with experience and improve with enrichment, what is now called neuroplasticity. Her research on the brain of Albert Einstein helped fuel the ongoing scientific revolution in understanding the roles of glial cells in the brain. She was a professor of anatomy at the University of California, Berkeley. Other published research explored differences between the cerebral cortex of male and female rats and the link between positive thinking and immune health.

Dr. Diamond's research fundamentally changed the field of neuroscience by proving the plasticity of the human brain for the first time. She discovered that an enriched environment alters the anatomy of the brain. Dr. Diamond subsequently showed that the brain continues to adapt and develop well into adulthood. This ran counter to the contemporary paradigm in neuroscience of the brain as a static organ that deteriorates over time.

In addition to her groundbreaking research, Dr. Diamond was well known for her dedication to educating and inspiring the next generation of scientists. Dr. Diamond served as director of the Lawrence Hall of Science from 1990 to 1996, she understood the importance of creating an enriching learning environment for young people. Dr. Diamond oversaw the development of math and science curricula that reached students across the nation and around the world.

"She shared her personal story of how hard it had been for her, as a woman, to move forward in science, and championed the Hall's programs to support girls and others who are underrepresented in the sciences. She continually challenged Hall staff to learn something new each day, and to share it with our colleagues, visitors, and everyone we met" says Susan Gregory, deputy director of the Hall.

Dr. Diamond, a famous female figure in California's history has published work exploring the link between positive thinking and immunity, as well as women's role in science.

St. Patrick's Day Weekend Tree Planting Event
It's your Lucky Weekend! Help make Vallejo Greener!

It's your Lucky Weekend! Come join us for a fun-filled day at the Mare Island Shoreline Heritage Preserve in Vallejo! We'll be planting trees to help preserve the beauty of our environment. This in-person event at O'Hara Court is a great way to celebrate St. Patrick's Day weekend while giving back to nature. Bring your friends and family for a day of community, greenery, and good vibes. Let's make a difference together!

WILL THIS EVENT HAPPEN RAIN OR SHINE?

The event will happen come LIGHT rain or shine. In the event of heavy rain, we will cancel the event and send out an update to registrants.

WILL THERE BE SNACKS?

We will have snacks for participants! If you have food allergies or dietary needs, please feel free to bring your own snacks.

WHAT SHOULD I BRING?

Please bring your own water bottles and dress appropriately for the weather with closed-toed shoes, long pants, and layers. Wear insect spray and sunscreen. There may be ticks or rattlesnakes (we're in the wild, after all, so dress as if you're going on a hike and ready to have fun and get dirty!)

REGISTER FOR THE EVENT

Benicia Road Design Workshop

The Solano County Department of Resource Management Planning Services Division is hosting a multi-day design workshop inviting Homeacres property owners and residents to help identify ways to envision a safer and more attractive neighborhood along the County portion of Benicia Road.

The workshop will conclude on Saturday March 16 at the Vallejo JFK Library-Joseph Room at 505 Santa Clara Street, Vallejo. Drop in visits and discussions are available every workshop day from 10am to 5:30pm.

Volunteer architects from around the region are committed to participating and sketching designs in real-time for area residents and developers to get a glimpse of Benicia Road's potential future. This is the first-time Solano County Planning will be hosting this type of workshop which is more widely known as a design charrette.

The focus area is between Glen Cove Road/Rollingwood Drive and Homeacres Avenue.

Museum of History, Benicia trivia night

Come out and support the Museum of History Benicia at the 2nd annual themed Trivia Night on March 16 from 6 to 10 p.m. The event will include trivia, no-host bar, raffle prizes, a costume contest, and some great refreshments.

Questions cover 1960s topics in history, science and technology, literature, sports, entertainment, and more. Participants are encouraged to dress up. The event will be held at Museum of History Benicia - Stone Hall, 2060 Camel Road in Benicia.

Notice of Public Availability of 2023 Refinery Flare Minimization Plan Annual Updates

BAY AREA AIR QUALITY MANAGEMENT DISTRICT The Bay Area Air Quality Management District is releasing the 2023 Flare Minimization Plan (FMP) Annual Updates for public review and comment. The five Bay Area refineries prepared these plans subject to Regulation 12, Rule 12: Flares at Refineries.

Under Regulation 12-12, each FMP Annual Update must include:

- New prevention measures identified during investigations of flaring events that occurred during the period July 1, 2022 – June 30, 2023;
- A description of the prevention measures previously taken or currently planned to reduce flare emissions at the refinery;
- Commitment to implement all new feasible prevention measures expeditiously; and
- A 30-day public comment review period

The plan updates are now available for review on the Air District's Flare Minimization Plans web page.

The deadline to submit public comments regarding the 2023 FMP Annual Updates is April 8, 2024.

Comments can be submitted the following ways:

- Mail to BAAQMD–FMP Update Public Comment, 375 Beale Street, Suite 600, San Francisco, CA 94105
- Email to compliance@baaqmd.gov

Be sure to identify which refinery, or refineries, your comment is applicable to.

After consideration of public comments received, the Air District will evaluate each refinery's Flare Minimization Plan Annual Update to determine whether it meets the requirements of Regulation 12-12 and will take final action in accordance with the regulation.

For any additional information, please visit the Air District website or email compliance@baaqmd.gov

Internship for high school students

Bay Area high school students are invited to apply to the Norman Mineta Bay Area Summer Academy, a five-week paid internship with MTC, the Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG), the Bay Conservation and Development Commission (BCDC) and the Bay Area Air Quality Management District (Air District).

The program kicks off at the Bay Area Metro Center on July 8, 2024, and over the course of the subsequent five weeks, students will learn how regional agencies deals with issues like environmental justice, housing and transportation equity, community health, and social justice. High school students are encouraged to apply before the application deadline on April 28, 2024.\(link is external\)

To apply for the Bay Area Summer Academy, students must:

- Live and attend high school in the Bay Area.
- Be at least 16 years old.
- Have completed the ninth grade by July 2024.
- Be able to attend online and in-person seminars and present on a topic related to the seminars.
- Have the permission of a parent or guardian to participate if the student is under 18.

Enrollment is limited, and selections will emphasize a diversity of perspectives from students across the Bay Area. Grade point averages are not considered.

2024-25 College Journalism Network Fellowship

Are you an undergraduate student journalist at a California college or university? Do you want to gain valuable experience covering higher education, work with other student journalists from around the state and see your stories published by CalMatters?

The CalMatters College Journalism Network is hiring fellows for its 2024-2025 cohort, which begins mid-August and runs through May.

You will take part in ambitious joint reporting projects with other fellows, as well as covering stories on your own. And you'll receive training in reporting, higher education policy and navigating the journalism industry.

Fellows devote an average of 10-15 hours per week to the remote fellowship, with a flexible schedule and a stipend of $1200 per month. Expect to attend weekly, virtual newsroom meetings with the rest of the CJN team, and at least one in-depth, expenses-paid training in Sacramento at the beginning of the program.

Applications are due by midnight PST on Friday, April 12.

In lieu of a formal cover letter, please answer the following questions and attach your responses as part of your application. If you have any questions or concerns please contact cjn@calmatters.org.

- Why do you want to be part of the CalMatters College Journalism Network?
- What is one issue affecting students that you think hasn't been reported enough? Why do you think it's important? Pitch us a higher education story with a brief plan of how you'd cover it.
- The College Journalism Network seeks to recruit a team of student journalists that reflects the diversity of California. What we mean by diversity includes, but is not limited to: race and ethnicity, geography, gender, sexual orientation, life experience, ability, skill set and type of college. How would you contribute to that diversity?
- Is there anything else you would like us to know?

Saturday Morning Speaker Series

The Reframing Modern World History
Centering Climate Justice and Colonialism
Saturday Morning Speaker Series continues on April 13 with Vasna Ramasar, who is the Program Director for the Culture, Power and Sustainability International Masters at Lund
University in Sweden.

Ramasar currently is focused on social and environmental justice looking at just transitions and alternatives to development. Her projects look at women's resistance to extractivism; workers as agents of change, and navigating justice claims in the energy transition.

Ramasar's presentation will take place on Saturday, April 13, from 9 to 11am on Zoom.

The speaker series is designed to help World History teachers rethink our curriculum. It is a part of the effort by the UC Berkeley History-Social Science Project to reframe the modern world history course with an overarching question that asks "How do we get into right relationship with the planet and each other?" This approach globalizes the investigation of the origins and consequences of the industrial revolution, colonialism, and the resulting climate crisis we face today, while highlighting alternate visions for a sustainable and more just future.

Updates from around Solano County

STA's 2023 annual report

The Solano Transportation Authority (STA) has released its 2023 annual report.

According to the STA, "2023 was a year of continuing progress on priority projects, programs, and new opportunities for funding heading into 2024. Thanks to the leadership, support, and teamwork of the STA Board, STA staff, and our local, regional, state, and federal partner agencies, STA effectively continued to plan for, fund, and deliver priority projects, and provide a range of mobility programs to support all of Solano County's residents and employees."

Benicia High School Debate Team Headed to New York for National Finals

Congrats to Benicia seniors Michael Delgado (right) and Gabriel Stockwell (left), who will be traveling to New York on April 5th for the National Parliamentary Debate League Tournament of Champions. Michael and Gabriel are members of the Benicia High School Debate team.

This year, as team co-captains and coaches, they built and trained a large team that collectively won fourth overall in tournament points earned, beating out many larger and well-established teams in the Bay Area.

A month before the end of the debate season, they decided to join forces again and debate as a team. The outcome of that was once again impressive. They were among the top two teams out of 32 in state qualifiers for the Bay Area, earning a place in state-wide finals, which will take place in Clovis April 12-14.

As they celebrated that huge win, they got word that they were chosen to go to the national finals in New York City on April 6-8 where they will compete against the best parliamentary debate teams in the country.

This end-of-year performance means travel expenses to two overnight tournaments, one of which requires airfare and other travel-related expenses.

Now they need the support once again of our community to end the year in New York City proudly representing Benicia in a tournament they have already started training for.

If you would like to support their effort, please write a check to Benicia High School, memo BHS Debate Team. You can mail it to the high school at 1101 Military West, Benicia, 94510, or drop it by at the front office.

For any questions, contact team advisor Michele Gaines at MGaines@beniciaunified.org

Solano County Kindness Campaign video contest

The Solano County District Attorney's Office is hosting a kindness campaign, which is open to all 7th through 12th grade students in Solano County.

Submit a video between 30 seconds to two minutes in length that expresses what the power of kindness can accomplish in your community. Hatred and bullying can pop up anywhere. How can the power of kindness be used in our schools, homes and communities to make a positive difference? If you had the power of kindness, what would you do with it?

Video must focus on how kindness can make a positive difference against bullying and negative behavior and videos must include creator's names, school affiliation, and name of teacher or staff advisor with entry.

Also include a short explanation of your video, either in the body of your email submission or attached as a word document. For example, tell us about the inspiration for your project and provide the backstory if you feel it will aid the judging panel.

The submission deadline is April 24. Finalist will be invited to attend the ceremony on: May 6.

Please submit your video by a shared link (Google drive, Dropbox, etc.) to SCDAKindness@solanocounty.com and the signed Media Photo Release Form.

Also, if you are having trouble submitting the video through a shared link and/or have questions,

Fairfield joins GovAI Coalition

The city of Fairfield has joined the GovAI Coalition, a growing network of more than 400 public servants from over 150 agencies committed to responsible and purposeful AI in the public sector, the city announced this week. The Coalition is focused on establishing standards for AI policies, procurement, implementation, and ensuring public privacy to advance the use of AI in delivering government services.

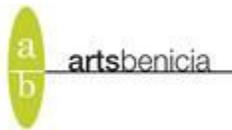

The city of San José launched the Coalition in 2023 to create standards for responsible and purposeful AI in government and the Coalition evolved into a national movement for AI in the public sector. The Coalition has released an open letter and a toolkit to help public agencies adopt and implement responsible AI practices. These tools are aligned with emerging national standards and unify the needs of many local governments.

The next step for the Coalition includes putting the toolkit to practice and implementing AI solutions to enhance civic services and public engagement. The City of Fairfield and the GovAI Coalition welcomes agencies to join our efforts in shaping the future of artificial intelligence.

Organizations interested in joining the Coalition, or utilizing the open letter or toolkit should visit here.

Arts Benicia

Arts Benicia is expected to open two new exhibitions, including Explorations in Monochromatic Art, a juried exhibition with artwork built mainly of a single-color hue, and selected by Leah Rosenberg, opens on Saturday, March 16 in the downstairs galleries.

Paintings, textiles, metal, concrete and ceramic sculptures, prints, and photography are represented among the 70 works in the show.

In the upstairs galleries, Arts Benicia will present Randall Sexton with The Outsiders, featuring work by the late Sexton and by members of The Outsiders, a plein air group with whom he painted. The Outsiders included Sexton, Nikki Basch Davis, Jerrold Turner, Warren Dreher, Raymond Jackson, William Rushton, and Judy Molyneux.

Public opening reception will be held on Saturday, March 16, from 4 to 6 pm.

The Arts Benicia Gallery is located at 1 Commandant's Lane, Benicia, in the Commanding Officer's Quarters, in the historic Benicia Arsenal. Gallery hours are Thursday through Sunday, 1 to 5 pm. Visitors are invited to walk throughout the historic mansion built in 1860, an important and interesting part of our town's history. For more information visit <https://artsbenicia.org>

Events I attended this week

Saturday, March 9, I sponsored and attended the Solano County Library literacy celebration held at the county event center. The title was "WE SHINE TOGETHER". The event celebrating the hard work tutors and their learners have accomplished. The personal stories of the learners bring tears to many eyes. I am in awe of those who are willing to get the help needed to read and the volunteers who help. If you can find some time in your life to help, the need is great.

This week Wednesday, March 13, and Thursday, March 14, I went to the JFK Library (Joseph Room) in downtown Vallejo to read and give input to the staff about my thoughts of the vision of the future of Benicia. The design workshop is open today Friday the 15 from 10am to 5:30 with an evening presentation from 6 to 7:30pm. Saturday, March 16 is the last day for input. The time is the same. Hope to see you there.
