4. PRESENTATIONS

a. 2014 Disposal-Facility-Based Characterization of Solid Waste in California

by: Nancy Carr & Mark Umfress
Senior Environmental Scientists, CalRecycle
Nancy.Carr@calrecycle.ca.gov or (916) 341-6216

In 2014 CalRecycle completed two studies – one for materials still being disposed in California’s landfills from all sources, and one focused on materials both disposed and diverted from the commercial sector, by specific business groups. These data are essential for solid waste management planning, assessment of waste diversion activities, market development for recovered materials, and charting progress toward climate impact goals for California and its local governments to achieve the 75% recycling goal.

4. PRESENTATIONS continued

b. Recyclist.co

By: Emily Coven, Founder
emily@recyclist.co or (415) 992-5211

Recyclist is a Northern California company that creates cloud-based solutions to help communities move toward zero waste. Founder Emily Coven will give a brief overview of their flagship Public Education & Outreach Platform, a turn-key website and digital communications tool for municipal solid waste & recycling program managers. She will also talk briefly about some of the work Recyclist is doing in the commercial recycling arena, including using waste characterization data to automate generation estimates, facilitating and tracking outreach efforts, and monitoring regulatory compliance.
